COPD is a serious condition that can eventually reach a stage where it becomes life threatening. Talking about this and planning your end of life care, also called palliative care, in advance can be helpful. It can be difficult to talk about dying with your doctor, and particularly with family and friends, but many people find it helps.

Chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD) is a chronic inflammatory lung disease that causes obstructed airflow from the lungs. Symptoms include breathing difficulty, cough, mucus (sputum) production and wheezing. It's typically caused by long-term exposure to irritating gases or particulate matter, most often from cigarette smoke.
