Multiple choice questions (MCQs) in the past were the most common modality by which medical students were examined. Although able to test a broad range of topics and being cost efficient for marking purposes, MCQs have largely been abandoned in favour of extending matching questions (EMQs) and more recently the single best answer (SBA) question format.

Single Best Answer (SBA) questions are widely used in undergraduate and postgraduate medical examinations. Selection of the correct answer in SBA questions may be subject to cueing and therefore might not test the student's knowledge. In contrast to this artificial construct, doctors are ultimately required to perform in a real-life setting that does not offer a list of choices.
